ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1933.——EIGHT PAGES FIFTY-ONE YEARS

NAMES OF WHEAT COMMITTEEMEN FOR COUNTY

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough has sent a letter to all wheat growers in the county urging them to get in touch with the committeemen in their territory immediately and fill out applications to the government if they expect to get cash payments from the Federal government.

According to Agent McCullough there are only a few days left in which to get these applications filled out and turned in; therefore, it will be necessary for the wheat growers to sign an application immediately.

The community and territory committeemen of the county who must be seen to sign up these applications are as follows:

McKinney territory—E. H. Cash, chairman; Orlia J. Moss, Chandler Atkinson.

Prosper territory—R. J. Wilson, Ben W. Smith, Henry Greenwood.

Plano territory—R. C. Fortner, J. M. Rice, John D. Brent.

Jess Morris, a business man of Greenville, spoke twice in McKinney Sunday. At 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning he occupied the pulpit of the South Wilcox Street Methodist church and at the evening hour he spoke at the First Methodist church. In both talks he presented the merits of Wesley College, Greenville, and urged his hearers to give it support by sending their boys and girls to school there where they can get their first two years of college training under the best of conditions. The main part of his talk was under the head of an "Ideal Layman." Mr. Morris takes an active interest in church affairs in the North Texas Conference. He spoke to fair sized congregations at both churches.

The thermometer sank to its lowest point of the season—60 degrees at 7:00 o'clock (Wednesday) to cause citizens to shiver a little and bring out more sweaters, light coats and other fall wearing apparel. The thermometer went down to 64 degrees Monday morning. Although 59 degrees is a rather moderately cool temperature, it seemed decidely cool, since the weather which struck here Sunday afternoon was the first relief from the heat wave of 90 and above temperature in several days.

Mrs. Claude West, of this city, experienced business school instructor, announces the opening of her fall term today (Wednesday) at her home, 402 South Church street. Anyone interested can get in touch with her and learn more about the course she teaches, which includes shorthand, typewriting, Business English and all other subjects attached to a business course. She is experienced in this line of work and has always enjoyed good-sized classes in her school in the past.

ANNUAL M'KINNEY SQUIRREL STEW TUESDAY NOON

Squirrel season opened Sunday, October 1, on which date the ban against these choice little woodland animals was lifted for ninety days. The limit is ten squirrels a day for an individual hunter and not more than twenty in possession of a hunter at one time.

Promptly on Monday morning John M. White and Police and Fire Chief John S. McKinney and Ralph White, all good near neighbors living on Heard street, took to the woods and Tuesday morning they had garnered twenty-five fat, tender squirrels that were neatly dressed and converted into a delicious squirrel stew as only their friend, W. W. Crenshaw, knows how to cook. He used a big wash pot for the stew in which the other ingredients were liberal quantities of canned tomatoes, Irish potatoes and onions, all properly seasoned with condiments. This favorite stew with hunters and other men who hunt but little, or none at all, is a rare diet enjoyed by everybody who has the opportunity of feasting on it. Mr. Crenshaw has had years of experience in cooking squirrel stew which was served this year in woodland owned by Joe Crutcher, about four miles west of McKinney in Wilson Creek bottoms.

These annual squirrel stews have been enjoyed for many years by hunters of McKinney and other parts of the county who often call in other friends for the occasion.

In addition to the squirrel stew, John Faulkner, (colored) skilled in barbecuing, was also present with some of his choicest barbecued goat to supplement the meat for the noonday meal. There was plenty of bread, lettuce, onions, choicely boiled and tender roasting ear corn and hot coffee served in Dutch lunch fashion to about seventy-five friends at noon Tuesday. An hour was pleasantly spent in feasting and in a social way and listening to a few remarks by City Attorney John D. Reese, Assistant County Attorney Leon O. Moses and by Merrill Benton who each responded to calls for brief speeches.

Among those present were J. C. Crouch and Fred Hones of the J. C. Crouch Grain company of Dallas, who nearly always come up to attend these annual McKinney squirrel stew occasions. They were guests on this occasion of President Gibson Caldwell of the Collin County Mill & Elevator Company.

NEW 1934 CAR NUMBERS HAVE ARRIVED HERE

While on a visit to Tax Collector N. D. Ready's office Tuesday morning, we were shown some of the new 1934 automobile license numbers. The passenger numbers have an orange background and black letters with "Texas" in the lower left hand corner and "1934" in the lower right hand corner. The numbers range from 176,051 to 183,850.

The commercial license plates have a black background and orange letters with the additional wording "C-M," (commercial motor). These numbers range from 38,401 to 38,700.

Although these license plates are already in the collector's office, they can not be turned over to automobile owners until December 1, or after. There have been a number of inquiries and much interest shown in these numbers and Collector Ready and the police force are expecting some busy times when they are placed on sale here Dec. 1 of this year.

Prof. Jack R. Ryan Made Chairman Of The State Textbook Commission

McKINNEY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT HONORED BY HIS FELLOW WORKERS ON BOARD—WILL BE AT STATE CAPITAL FOR NEXT FEW DAYS SELECTING TEXT BOOKS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF STATE.

Prof. Jack R. Ryan of this city is in Austin this week attending a session of the State Textbook Commission of Texas, selecting and recommending textbooks to be used in the public free schools of the state.

This commission is composed of five representative educators of the state. Prof. Ryan, who is serving his second year on the Commission, was honored at its session convening Monday in Austin with election as Chairman of the Board this year. This honor is highly pleasing to his friends in his home city and county as well as in other parts of the state. It is a mark of confidence in both his ability in school matters and integrity of character. The Text Book Commission's task this year is greater than for several years, because of so many selections that have come up for contract.

The Text Book Commission makes its recommendations to the State Board of Education which really places the orders for the books from the list of eligible textbooks presented to it from which to select by the State Text Book Commission.

This duty only requires a few days absence from home each year by its members, yet it has a vital bearing upon the progress of public free school education in the state. Prof. Ryan, like the other four members of the Commission, is visited throughout the year by representatives of book concerns whose publications are carefully studied and scrutinized at his leisure so that when the Commission holds its annual meeting its members are advised and ready to make their selections for recommendation to the State Board of Education.

Prof. Ryan's membership on the Commission draws several score of people to our city from time to time during the year to interview him and place their competing textbooks before him for consideration. The position that he holds indicates that Prof. Ryan occupies a place of highest esteem in the public free school system of the state. It is a compliment also to the high standing of McKinney's school system which he heads.

Elected Chairman

PROF. JACK R. RYAN
Of State Text Book Commission

SCORE OF COLLIN SCHOOLS ARE IN PROGRESS

BURGLAR SCARED AWAY FROM DR. R. L. DAVIS HOME

A burglar was frightened from the home of Dr. R. L. Davis on South Church street Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. The family was away from home and on the return of a daughter, Miss Davis, the burglar fled out at the back door leaving his loot piled up in the kitchen. It consisted of a new suit of clothes and a considerable amount of canned goods. Drawers in all bureaus, chiffoniers and dressers in the house had been ransacked and it is believed a gold watch was taken. The burglar made his entrance by cutting a hole in the back screen door and fled out the back way as Miss Davis opened the front door.

SEEK NEGRO AFTER MIDNIGHT SHOOTING AFFRAY

Collin county officers are on the lookout for a young negro man, who is believed to be Son Howard, of Colbert, Okla., following the shooting and critical wounding of Bob Snargrass, of Atchlee, Okla., about midnight Saturday near Rhea Mills.

According to Constable John Record and Bill Herndon, deputy, Howard and another negro were riding home from a dance with four white men, one of whom was Snargrass. When the car stalled and the men got out to work on the machine, it is said the negro pulled a pistol in an attempted holdup on the men and when Snargrass refused to comply with orders, he was shot through the chest, the bullet piercing his body. He is reported in a critical condition in the McKinney City hospital.

The City Federation held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon at which nine of the city's study clubs were represented. Mrs. E. L. Burton, president, presided over the business session, which was devoted to discussing the city library. Mrs. Newton J. Burkett is secretary of the Federation while Mrs. Lee R. Hoover is treasurer. Mrs. Hoover brought a detailed report which was well received.

The Federation voted to sponsor a picture show in the near future, the proceeds of which will be used for the library. It was also suggested at the meeting that children's books were badly needed, and the ladies urged that as many of these books as possible be donated to the library. Miss Faye Wilcox, city librarian, was praised by the president and others, for the capable and efficient manner in which she is holding her office.

Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the Chamber of Commerce, was present and read a letter from the State Fair association, asking the Federation to select a princess and maid of honor from McKinney to act in a pageant which will be given in Fair park at Dallas next week. The Federation accepted the suggestion and will choose two young ladies to represent McKinney at the pageant.

COLLIN 4-H GIRLS' EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Mary Reeves of Bloomdale, left Monday morning for Dallas, taking along exhibits of the 4-H club girls and women of the home demonstration clubs, to be exhibited at the State Fiar, which opens in Dallas Saturday, October 7. Miss Reeves represents the county home demonstration club association, in helping to select the exhibits for the state fair from this county.

Miss Dunlap will also arrange the Collin county booth for the fair this week, being assisted by M. J. Carter of Foote, Forest Arnold of Bloomdale and J. W. Wilmeth of Ash Grove. She says this county must have thirty crocks of grains, vegetables, etc., in the booth and she is urging our citizens, who have anything that can be shown, to bring their products to the Chamber of Commerce or the county agent's office, within the next few days, so she can take them to Dallas for the fair.

J. W. BATES' BEAN GUESS WON THE FLOUR

The Collin County Mill and Elevator company of which Gibson Caldwell is president, had one of the most interesting exhibits at the sixteenth annual Collin County Free fair here the past week. In the booth, which displayed the products of this big McKinney industry, was a pint milk container, filled with beans. Each visitor to the booth was permitted to register his name, and given a guess at the number of beans in the container. The winner was awarded a barrel of flour. F. E. Welmaker assisted in arranging the attractive booth.

The winner in the guessing contest was J. W. Bates, having guessed 751, which was the exact number of beans in the bottle. Several others guessed close to the number, many guessing 750 and one person, 752. If Mr. Bates will go by the Collin County Mill and Eleveator company office and see Mr. Caldwell or Mr. Welmaker, he will be awarded the barrel of flour. More than 1,500 people registered at this booth during the fair.

Parker Watson, who has been under treatment in a government hospital at Leavenworth, Kansas, for nearly three years, is now in the Soldiers and Sailors Hospital at Legion, near Kerrville. He is getting along nicely. Parker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Watson of this city. He was serving his country in the Navy when his health failed. Parker is a fine young man who bids fair to recover his health and in the course of a few more months be able to return to his wife and fine little baby son in this city.

J. M. Hightower, living two-and-a-half miles northwest of McKinney and getting his mail on Route 4, operates a produce truck business through the West and Southwestern part of the county, selling remedies and other articles to the farmers and buying their poultry, eggs and

When you read the remedies offered to save the country you can't help wondering how people stayed solvent as long as they did.—Corsicana Sun.

"How can I get my husband to discuss his business affairs with me?" asks a correspondent. Ask when he intends to buy a new car.—Humorist.

In speaking of the NRA, President Roosevelt says: "This great co-operation can succeed only if those who bravely go forward to restore jobs have aggressive public support."

All records were shattered when a Santa Fe train of wheat two miles long once pulled out of Newton, Kansas. It carried 300 cars of the bread cereal.

Death recently knocked at the door of another old Confederate veteran and claimed for his own J. P. Nenney. He was a Texas Ranger before the Civil war and for four years a gallant Confederate soldier. Scarcely a half dozen of these old Southern heroes are now left in our city.

Some years ago an authority on the study of human success from a money earning standpoint in the United States estimated that a college education is worth $72,000 to its possessor. The average maximum income of the untrained man is $1200; of the high school graduate $2,200; of the college graduate $6,000. Total earnings of each of the three classes up to 60 are placed at $45,000, $78,000 and $150,000. It is estimated that while the untrained man at 50 begins to drop toward dependence, the college man reaches his maximum earning capacity at 60.

Multiplied millions of cigarettes are smoked every day in the world. France alone has about twenty-five cigarette paper mills. In a single district, fifteen tons of this feathery paper are manufactured every day. Most of the French output is consumed in the United States. The French wine manufacturers are also now looking upon the United States as a prospective field of greatest profit after the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. A pretty good rule for you to adopt is to give less thought to envying successful men and more to emulating them.

Buy real estate. There will never be any more land than there is today. Population increases—but land does not. Land, that, years ago was worthless, is today worth fortunes. Land fluctuates in prices less than any other property. Invest something in land. It has no wings with which to fly away; it has no legs with which to walk away. Real estate is a real investment. Buy land—and do it now before returning prosperity pushes it on back up to the higher levels of eight or ten years ago. Buy now and pocket the increase as clear profit.

A few years ago many of our people bought land and homes and contracted debts on the basis of twenty to thirty cent cotton. The depression came; prices of farm products, including cotton, fell far below the cost of production. Cotton went as low as four cents per pound. It is now bringing only about ten cents a pound. There is unquestionably merit in the clamor for controlled inflation. Multiplied thousands have already lost their all in this world's goods, including their homes. What the people had to sell dropped from fifty to seventy-five per cent in value, but their debts remained the same, with no decrease in interest or taxes. The debtor class are justified in their clamor.

The Frisco Journal has just printed and delivered to the Frisco Parent-Teachers' Association, its new 1933-34 yearbook. This organization has arranged an interesting, entertaining and inspiring program for its meetings during the present school year. The P.-T. A. is an organization that means much to the public schools. Teachers welcome it, parents are kept in closer touch by the cooperating of the P.-T. A. with the teachers and pupils. We congratulate the ladies of the Frisco P.-T. A. on their enterprise in getting out their yearbook, and we congratulate the school on having such a wide-awake organization.

Miss Pina Watts, a retired school teacher of Denison, has had fifty-two years experience in that profession. Her first school was in the small town of Randolph, Tennessee, where she had to teach in a small church. She then taught at Prescott, Arkansas, then six years here at McKinney after which she taught ten years in Gainesville, going from there to Denison in 1901 where she continuously taught until she retired three years ago. A number of her old pupils at McKinney are now middle-aged men and women who remember her with gratitude and kindliness and wish her eventing of life to be peaceful and happy.

Remarked one of our regular readers of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette: "I see you editors never tire of speaking complimentary of most everyone. You must certainly have big hearts, because I know that some of these same beneficiaries of your kindly notices speak unkindly of you to your backs. They don't use Sunday school words, either, sometimes in referring to you. And, too, I know if these same ingrates were to "kick out," you would say lots of complimentary things about them in their obituaries. I just couldn't do it, myself. I wouldn't make an editor I need. I do not have enough grace to tolerate and lend [illegible] as editor is expected to do."

The Winter Garden Experiment Station now has growing in seedbeds over 8000 ornamental date palms two years old, grown for the Winter Garden Chamber of Commerce for planting along the main highways. The Highway Department is cooperating in this enterprise, and these palms will be planted alternately with Retama, a splendid ornamental native tree. Preparatory work to the setting of these ornamental plats next spring is now under way and with the proper care and time, the Winter Garden should be able to boast avenues of palms that will make its highways the most attractive of any highways to be found in the State. The present plans provide for beautification of 150 miles of highways in Dimmit, Zavala and Maverick counties. Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy of McKinney is head of the Department of the State Federation of Women's Clubs that looks after the beautification of public highways, yards, school campuses and churchyards. She has done much to foster civic attractiveness in the state in recent years. She is especially interested now, in view of the approaching Texas Centennial in 1936 when visitors by the multiplied thousands will be coming into the state.

The local option election in Smith County recently shows, with astounding clearness, just what the dry forces of this state are up against if we are to keep Texas anything like dry. Three weeks prior to this election the county voted 300 majority against the sale of 3.2 per cent beer, but, on account of the confusing situation with the ballot, another election was called. In the meantime the Attorney General's office had interpreted the new state beer law and declared that beer could be delivered in any dry territory in the state. As a result of that interpretation the people of Smith County believed that their people would go to Longview or to Dallas and spend their money for beer and have it delivered in to the county. Therefore, the election just held changed to a 500 majority in favor of 3.2 beer. Unless this law is changed so as to protect dry territory every county in the state will likely go wet as soon as another local option election can be called which is six months after the previous election. Pressure should be brought to bear on the present extra session of the legislature for an amendment to the beer law to protect dry counties. If this present legislature is so wet that they will not deal fairly with communities desiring to remain dry, then immediate plans must be made for the election next year of dry Senators and Representatives from dry territories.

TENANTS ARE PROTECTED.

The cotton acreage reduction plan for next season, we learn, is not as unkind to the tenant farmer as was indicated by our recent comment upon it. The Texas Weekly, which was the source of the information on which our editorial of last Tuesday was based, seems to have been misled.

There is no good reason why the plan should turn any appreciable number of cotton tenants out into the cold. The tenant who made a crop this year is entitled to a share of the money the landlord is scheduled to receive for agreeing to reduce the 1934 crop. If the landlord, by reason of the fact that his cotton fields will be smaller, is tempted to reduce the number of his tenants, the latter will nevertheless share in the money paid under the government's plan. So far from there being any incentive for the landlord to cast any of his tenants adrift, there is the incentive to keep them all. For the land not planted to cotton will be used for some other crop, and there must be tenants to farm it.

The administration has not overlooked the tenants in framing its program for 1934 cotton acreage reduction.—Wichita Falls Times.

ABOUT VITALITY.

The vitality of newspapers is something at which to be amazed. The oldest business institutions in Texas are newspapers. Probably the oldest institution in the United States is some newspaper or other. The fact that the company which publishes this newspaper is the oldest business establishment in Abilene is not an unusual circumstance. It can be duplicated in many a Texas community.—Abilene News.

The vitality of established newspapers is founded upon the determination of a literate population to read. The newspapers supply reading matter of current interest, and men today as always are more interested in what is going on currently than in what happened last month or last year or in the reign of Louis XIV. The daily newspaper is a product of today. A book is a product of a former time. The monthly magazine has its field, of course, but the total of magazine circulation is insignificant in comparison with the total of newspaper circulation. Advertising declined steeply during the three bad years, in newspapers as well as in all other media. But 125,000,000 people have to be fed, clothed and housed in good years as well as poor years, so business did not and could not afford to abandon advertising altogether. The newspapers have muddled through their troubles until now. They are still in hot water, but there is some indication that the boiling point has passed and a certain lukewarmness has ensued. Good business is always brave, and when there is a chance for some trade to be had, merchants will not abandon their efforts to attract it. Therefore they advertise, not prodigally, perhaps, but conservatively and intelligently. It is the vitality of American business that gives vitality to American newspapers.—State Press in Dallas News.

THE SOURCE OF CHARITY.

Failure of the people of Texas to respond promptly and fully to the appeal of the Red Cross for funds with which to relieve the destressed people in the Rio Grande valley, rendered homeless by the hurricane, is due in great measure to the voting of the twenty million dollars bonds some weeks ago, and to the distribution of funds derived from the Federal government under the various relief acts, says the Paris Morning News.

People have begun to depend on the general or local governments to take care of all needs, and while they were largely of that mind before the bonds were voted by Texas, that decision strengthened their belief that the government was the proper agency to which to look for relief, not only in cases of unemployment but of disaster that called for money or supplies.

Every charitable agency is going to feel the effects of this recently acquired sentiment as the days go by. Men and women who realize that they are taxed for funds to be used for relief are largely going to let that be their contribution, and the liberal giver is going to become a rare bird. Not all of them will stop giving, of course, and there will continue to be many instances of individual good deeds, but the large community chests and the budgets of the various relief organizations are going to be reduced.

Whether this is the better plan must be told by the outcome. There have been people in the past who held the belief that a portion of taxes should be used to relieve distress, arguing that in this way everyone would be contributing according to his means. That may be true, but if so it will result in decreased funds for the voluntary organizations, and will require a radical change in their programs.

McKINNEY NRA COMPLIANCE BOARD IS HEADED BY T. E. CRAIG

An NRA compliance board has just been set up for this city for the purpose to help our president in securing 100 per cent compliance with his re-employment agreement.

* * *

It's Membership.

Personnel of the McKinney NRA Compliance board set up Sept. 20, by appointment is as follows:

Chairman, Thos. E. Craig McKinney

A. M. Cox—Employe in industry.

Paul K. Wilson—Employe in retail and wholesale trade.

Gibson Caldwell—Employer in industry.

Clifton Dowell—Employer in retail and wholesale trade.

Mrs. W. K. Penn—Representative of consumers.

W. R. Abernathy—Lawyer.

The members of this board are volunteering their services in order to help the president in securing 100 per cent compliance with the president's re-employment agreement.

These boards are not councils of inquisition or compulsion. Their function is primarily to be of service to all employers who have signed the president's agreement by keeping them informed of the meaning of the agreement and the individual employer's obligations under it. They will be ready and willing to aid all employers who come to them for information.

They will make themselves known in their community as widely as possible so that all may know that the local NRA compliance board is the local authority on the president's re-employment agreement program.

They should give out authoritative information through every agency open to them. The job of these boards is to secure compliance. In almost all cases this can be done by letting the employers know what is expected of them.

If an employer willfully persists in noncompliance with the agreement after being fully informed of his obligations he is no longer entitled to the Blue Eagle and the federal government will take it away.

* * *

Procedure of Board.

In brief, the following are the steps to be followed in handling complains of noncompliance with the president's re-employment agreement:

COUPLE GIRLS ABANDON CAR NEAR M'KINNEY

According to a news item in the Sherman Democrat of September 27 two young women, giving their ages as 17 and 19 and residing near Van Alstyne, were placed under a bond of $200 Tuesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace E. A. Wright at Denison following a preliminary hearing.

It was charged that Thursday night they drove from Sherman to Denison with a Denison young man, who left his car by the Hotel Simpson while he went to use a telephone. The girls drove the car away, going to Texarkana, Shreveport and back to a point near McKinney where the car was abandoned. Later they were arrested by Collin county officers and returned to Denison and held in jail until Tuesday afternoon. They made bond.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. If you

A PRINCETON FARMER MAKING GOOD COTTON

A. J. Jones, a good farmer of near Princeton, recently had a big barn, about 40 by 60 feet, to burn. He also had 100 bushels of last year's corn to be burned; also seven tons of good millet hay and 100 bushels of cottonseed. He can't understand how the fire originated unless the sun shining on the metal roof ignited the dry millet hay stored therein. Mr. Jones has 125 acres in cotton this year from which he has already gathered thirty bales. He expects to pick about forty or fifty more. Mr. Jones has exceptionally good mules and farm tools. He is regarded as one of the best farmers in East Collin. He recently decided to give up the farm that he is on and is now looking for another one to rent. He is interested in a place that has from 100 to 150 acres and wants good land. This editor has known him a number of years and unhesitatingly says that any landlord will be lucky to get such a good farmer as A. J. Jones on his place. He lived nine years on one of J. W. (Billy) Bomar's farms which he voluntarily gave up for a larger place a year or two ago.

Frank Smith of Woodland, Red River county, was in McKinney Saturday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. (Deck) Smith and was born in McKinney, but his family have been living in Red River county for the past twelve years. Frank has been up here about two months, working most of the time for Green Johnson, a well-known farmer of the Altoga community.

LEE SIMMONS ENJOYED M'KINNEY HORSE SHOW

Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas penitentiary system who makes his home at Huntsville, attended the Collin County fair Wednesday night, witnessing its horse show. Mr. Simmons is a former Sherman man and once served Grayson county several years as sheriff. He is a real stockman. Perhaps no man in the state is a more competent judge of good mules and good horses than is Lee Simmons. The state penitentiary system was in a mess and furors of contention and was the bone of much bickering politically until he was prevailed upon to take its management. He reluctantly did so, but threw all of his enregy and capability into the job. As a result the penitentiary system was has been revolutionized in its management. Its nearly 6,000 prisoners are humanely cared for, but all who are physically able to do so, are required to work regularly. He has managed the many farms belonging to the prison system in a way that the prison system has almost become self-supporting if not quite so. Lee Simmons has a multitude of friends in McKinney and Collin county who feel complimented that he should feel such an interest in our county fair and live stock development that he would travel so far in order to see our premier county event of the year—Collin County fair and horse show.

FUNERAL HELD AT PROSPER FOR L. R. MITCHELL

Funeral services for L. R. Mitchell, 41, were held in the Presbyterian church at Prosper Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Evans, assisted by Rev. Weaver, pastor of the Methodist church at Prosper. Interment followed in Pecan Grove cemetery here in McKinney.

The deceased died in the City hospital here Tuesday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock. He had been ill only a few days. He was a popular and highly esteemed farmer of the Prosper community and a faithful and regular attendant of the Presbyterian church there. He is survived by his wife and three daughters: Emma Lee, Lucille and Gladys. His aged father, three brothers and three sisters, also survive.

Rufus Alsbrook, getting his mail on Route 3, Farmersville, was attending to business matters at the county seat Friday. He took time to drop in to renew his Weekly Democrat-Gazette subscripiton. He has been on Reed Markham's big farm, south of Farmersville, for about twenty-eight years. This speaks well for both tenant and landlord. Mr. Markham was reared in McKinney, but has lived in Sherman for a number of years where he is president of the big M. & P. Bank of that city.

W. W. Dugger, Route 2, Farmersville, has our thanks for a dollar, Weekly Democrat-Gazette renewal for another year in advance.

PARIS EDITOR COMPLIMENTS HORSE SHOW

EDITOR PAT MAYSE
Heads Paris Delegation Here Wednesday Night.

Editor Pat Mayse, president of the North Texas Publishing company, publishers of the Paris Morning News and the Paris Evening News, two of Northeast Texas' foremost daily newspapers, headed a large delegation of Paris citizens who came Wednesday night to attend the horse show of the Sixteenth Annual Collin County fair in this city. Pat said that he was more than pleased after seeing the great show of saddle horses in action. It was better than he really expected. He was delighted at the arena, the arrangements and accommodations for the show and at the overflowing thousands who surged in to witness it. Perhaps a thousand or more were turned away unable to even get standing room. Pat, who lived in McKinney for sixteen years, during which time he was connected with the reportorial and advertising departments of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette, says that it just looks like McKinney knows how to pull off a successful horse show. Knowing our citizenship personally as he does, he says it is not surprising because teamwork and co-operation of business interests together with capable management, are all 100 per cent behind our county fair and horse show. He has a special pride in Collin county's success along these lines because he had a part in helping to launch these enterprises.

Among those who accompanied Mr. Mayse or came more than 100 miles from Paris Wednesday night to see the show, were Mrs. Mayse and their two lovely young daughters, Misses Georgia B and Mary Jo; Dr. Owen O'Neil, president of the Paris Saddle club, and wife; Miss Mary Moore, niece of Jim B. Goodner of this city, recent winner of women riding honors of the Paris Saddle club; Gene Roden, Miss Lois Mayes, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Ragland and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. J. Riley Cross and others whose names we failed to learn. These enthusiastic lovers of pretty horses and graceful horsemanship from Paris were all highly complimentary of the big McKinney show. President A. H. Eubanks of the fair association expressed over the loud speaker the pleasure of himself and associates at the presence of Pat Mayse and his many Paris friends.

HELPED SAVE ADJOINING BUILDINGS IN RECENT FIRE

We met up with our friend James W. Hill, who had the misfortune of losing a big barn by fire about 9 or 10 o'clock Thursday morning, September 21, on his place near the western city limits. He has no idea how it caught. He had no insurance on the structure which was probably a fifty or sixty foot square building. His auto and several sets of harness stored in the barn were also lost. Four hogs, belonging to his son-in-law George Montgomery were also lost in the fire and several other head of swine were burned so badly that one has since died. Lee Cook, a near neighbor, had 150 bushels of oats and 250 bales of hay stored in the barn which were also lost. Mr. Hill states that his good neighbors, including the crew of George Thompson's gin which closed down during the fire, rendered valuable service in helping to save a rent house and a couple of other good sized barns near the burning structure from also being destroyed. Mr. Hill is very grateful to all his friends and also to the McKinney Fire department for the aid of several firemen with their chemical apparatus, who did what they could to help confine the fire. George Montgomery lost a couple of chests of carpenters' tools, probably worth a hundred or two dollars. Mr. Hill states that the origin of the fire is a mystery to him. However, he is thankful that the loss was confined to just one building. He says that nothing but the hard work and assistance of kind-hearted friends and neighbors, the gin force and the McKinney firemen could have possibly saved him from further loss from the fire demon.

Mr. Hill says this is the third fire that he has suffered. His first fire was the old home place of his father, the late Woot Hill. However, he had a little insurance to help cover that loss. He later had a rent house to burn on which he carried no insurance at all.

OLD FARMER TO HIS MULE

Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule drawing a plow. Said the man to the mule:

"Bill, you are a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man made in the image of God. Yet, here we work, hitched up together year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or if I work for you. Verily, I think it a partnership between a mule and a fool, for surely I work as hard as you, if not harder. Plowing or cultivating we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two. I, therefore, do twice as much work per leg as you do.

"Soon we'll be preparing for a corn crop. When the crop is harvested I give one-third to the landlord for being so kind as to let us use this small speck of God's universe. One-third goes to you and the balance is mine. You consume all of your portion with the exception of the cobs, while I divide mine among seven children, six hens, two ducks, and a banker. If we both need shoes, you get 'em. Bill, you are getting the best of me and I ask, is it fair for a mule, a son of a jackass, to swindle a man—a lord of creation—out of his substance?

"Why, you only help to plow and cultivate the ground, and I alone must cut, shock, and husk the corn, while you look over the pasture and hee-haw at me.

"All fall and most of the winter the whole family from Granny to the baby pick cotton to help raise money to pay taxes and buy a new harness and pay the interest on the mortgage on you. And what do you care about the mortgage? Not a damn, you ornery cuss! I even have to do the worrying about the mortgage on your touchy, ungrateful hide.

"About the only time I am your better is on election day, for I vote and you can't. And after election I realize I was fully as great a jackass as your papa. Verily, I am prone to wonder if politics were made for men or jackasses, or to make jackasses of men.

"And that ain't all, Bill. When you're dead, that's supposed to be the end of you. But me? The parson tells me that when I die, I gotta go to hell forever. That is, Bill, if I don't do just as he says, and most of what he says keeps me from getting any kick outa life.

"Tell me, Willyum, considering these things, how can you keep a straight face and look so dumb and solemn?"

JACKSBORO MAN AND WIFE HERE SEEING FAIR

F. M. NEELEY BEEN TAKING OUR PAPER HALF CENTURY

We had the pleasure Tuesday of meeting up with our longtime friend, Frank M. Neely of Jacksboro in company with his nephew, Bernie Neeley of this city. Frank M. Neeley, wife and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earl Neeley, arrived by auto Tuesday morning for a brief visit with relatives here and to see the Collin County fair and renew many old acquaintanceship. They are making their headquarters with their son, Claude D. Neeley and wife who live at the corner of West Tucker and North Bradley streets.

Mrs. Neeley was born, reared and married in the Bloomdale community, seven miles northwest of McKinney. Mr. Neeley was born in Madison county, Mississippi, and came to Collin county when a mere boy in 1874. Mrs. Neeley's maiden name was Miss Laura Scott, daughter of Andrew Scott, an early pioneer settler of the Bloomdale community. She was married to Mr. Neeley, March 17, 1885, with Eld. R. C. Horn officiating. They continued to live in the Bloomdale community until 1918, when they moved to West Texas, where they have since resided. Mr. and Mrs. Neeley always receive a cordial welcome on their occasional visits back to their old home at and near McKinney.

Mr. Neeley is one of the few living charter members of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette from whose columns they read every week the news from their old home county.

Mrs. Neeley, when a girl, attended school at old Hackberry with Oran Robinson, who on February 7, 1884, established the Weekly Democrat-Gazette then called the Democrat, which paper he edited for two or three years and which publication, the oldest in the county, will reach its half-century mark Feb. 1 next.

EDITOR SMITH PAYS TRIBUTE TO DOE ROLLINS

No more will the well-known Doe Rollins squat on the sidelines and chew grass while his lads are fighting their hearts out on the gridiron. No more will he gather his men in a huddle between halves with them to go in there and win for the old school. Doe has quit coaching—has discarded his uniform and will henceforth confine his school work to teaching agriculture for the McKinney High school. But say—he was a darned good coach—and always developed winning teams until he hit McKinney—and right here now we'll wager money, marbles or chalk that it wasn't his fault that his McKinney teams didn't click. As coach at Farmersville High, Doe for two years—winning the bi-district one year and regional the next—and were those fighting teams? Ask Strawn, Gilmer and Highland Park—they'll get you told in a hurry. We hate to see the old man quit the game—but he knows his business. But we'll never forget the great work he did with the local lads—many of whom went on to star on university teams.—Farmersville Times.

YOUNG SONS ARE EXPERTS AT COTTON PICKING

Floyd and Edward, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Pool of Wansboro, are two of the fastest cotton pickers we have heard of. Floyd is only 8 years old, while Edward is 5. One day recently the two young lads, together picked 323 pounds of cotton. Mr. and Mrs. Pool and sons recently came here from Winnsboro to pick cotton for Andrew Carroll, farmer in the Mt. Olive community, about five miles southwest of here. As soon as the season is over, they expect to return to their home in East Texas.

Mr. Pool says that Floyd will pick on an average of 190 pounds of cotton a day, which is a good record for an adult, much less for an eight-year-old boy. Edward usually passes the 100-pound mark, which is a mighty fine record for a five-year-old boy. We congratulate these lads on their ability in picking the fleecy staple.

Dr. Bryce Miller has resumed practice in McKinney, and will receive calls temporarily at his residence, 400 South Benge street. His phone number is 912. Dr. Miller has practiced here for several years, with the exception of the past few months, when he was located in Kerrville. His many friends will be pleased to know he has returned to McKinney to continue his practice, being an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Wednesday Night Winners In Local Horse Show

The Collin County Horse show, held in conjunction with the Collin County Free fair, was concluded here Thursday night when Collin county horses and riders were featured.

There were three other classes in which competition was open to the world. The crowd was practically as large as the two preceding nights, and many of the fine horses that were here for the first two nights of the show remained over to take part in the special classes in the Thursday night show.

The pony division was in charge of Dan W. Scott, assisted by Ray Ashley. They did a wonderful job of lining up so many fine young riders with their beautiful little steeds from all over the county. Circling under the lights at the arena before the large crowd was a big thrill for the kiddies and also for the grown-ups in the audience. It made a beautiful sight.

All other horse show officials are also well pleased with the success of the three-night program, including Superintendent Joe H. Wilcox and Secretary Tom M. Scott as well as W. P. Abernathy, Jimmie Belden, Fitzhugh Newsome, Ed Casbon and all others who worked hard to put the event over successively.

The horse show this year adopted the colors of green and white, which were carried out delightfully in decorating the judge's stand, the arch entrance and other prominent spots.

Sweepstakes.

One of the finest groups in the entire show was the three-gaited sweepstakes class Thursday night. This was an unusually beautiful class with high-stepping and well trained steeds and experienced riders. First place in this event went to "McDonald's Gallant Girl," belonging to Mrs. LaFay McCasland of Fort Worth and ridden by its trainer, Harry Lewis of the Lewis stables, Dallas. "Peggy Peavine" owned and ridden by Mrs. Jack Reeves, of Dallas, was second.

Trick Horses Perform.

Three added features were applauded by the crowd, including the performance again of "Buster" and "Mac" the educated horses of Fred Bailes of Dallas, who showed some fine tricks and the performance of a local "educated hrose," the pony of "Boog" Russell, trained by that young man, which did some good tricks. Mr. Bailes again gave an exhibition with his jumping horses, which took the hurdles beautifully.

An innovation Thursday night was a "bike-horse" made by Chas. A. Turrentine, of Scotty Forsyth's shop, in this city. Mr. Turrentine's son, Ernest, rode this "bike-horse," a bicycle covered with the wooden framework of a horse. It appeared like a real horse and performed admirably to the delight of the crowd who liberally applauded.

Second—Jack Cunningham.

Recent Baptist Meeting Proved Successful Event

The forty-ninth session of the Collin County Baptist association came to a close Wednesday afternoon at the North McKinney Baptist church. The last day's session was well attended and full of interest. Ed Gibson was put in charge of the Buckner Orphan's home car which is to be collected by the various friends and churches of the home to be sent to them this fall. This car is to consist of foods, raiment, medicine, and the necessities of family life, for this large family.

The meeting was harmonious throughout and perhaps more largely attended than any meeting for several years.

Resolutions of thanks were heartily adopted by the body to the Daily Courier-Gazette, the Weekly Democrat-Gazette and the McKinney Examiner, for their full accounts of the proceedings of the meetings and to the Southland Ice company and Crystal Ice company, for free ice; and to Rev. M. F. Wheeler for the use of his gospel tent which made the session more enjoyable. This service was greatly appreciated.

Joe and Ted Gelino, proprietors of the Chicago store, are at home from a market buying trip to the north and east. Their McKinney store is a big one and well stocked and is frequently found represented in the advertising columns of this paper.

Joe Johnson, getting his mail on Route 1, McKinney, is a new Weekly Democrat-Gazette subscriber. He was born and reared in the Altoga community, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson who now live on their farm near Tioga.

C. H. Warren, who receives his mail at Royse City, was in McKinney during the Collin county fair and took occasion to subscribe for the big Weekly Democrat-Gazette. He is handling the Bryant Mebane cotton seed this year. This variety of cotton makes a fine turnout of high-grade lint. Many Collin county planters are growing it.

Mrs. Armyn McKinney of Denison has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Hughes here during the fair and also the parents of her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John B. McKinney, who live just north of town. Her husband holds a responsible position with the telephone company at Denison. This young couple were only recently married.

I. M. Logan, Route 1, Celina, is another new Weekly Democrat-Gazette subscriber. He is living on the 640-acre Emerson farm, north of Celina, where he has been located for eight years. Mr. Logan believes in the diversification of crops. However, he is a large and successful cotton planter. He plowed up fifty acres of cotton this summer. His remaining acreage is turning out a good yield.

Mrs. T. C. Martin left Saturday afternoon for Edinburg, Texas, to attend the bedside of her father, Rev. I. E. Hightower, who is critically ill in a hospital there. The message stated that little hope is held for his recovery. He is suffering from tetanus caused from sticking a nail in his foot about a week ago. Mrs. Martin was accompanied to Edinburg by two brothers, and her sister, Mrs. Fleet McDaniels, of Ferris, Texas. The other children from various sections of the state are also in Edinburg.

FRISCO
Mrs. W. B. Staley, Corr.

A deep gloom was cast over the entire community on Monday night, September 4, when it was learned that Edwin Savage, one of Frisco's finest young men had met with instant death when a car in which he was riding was overturned and he was pinned under neath it. His chest was crushed but there were only slight bruises about the face. In the car with him were Alden Hudson of Dallas, driver of the car, and Miss Louise Tarpley of Frisco. Miss Tarpley escaped with only minor bruises while Mr. Hudson sustained painful injuries.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon, Rev. T. H. McSpadden, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. E. L. Silliman. By special request, Mrs. Mattie Acker Carter sang, "That Little Boy of Mine." Those who carried the flowers were Misses Bernice, Elizabeth and Louise Malone, Cleo St. John, Lula Bruce, Gladys McCormick, Lucille Christie, Lucille and Laura Bell Atherton and Mrs. Mary McNeese.

Burial was made at Rowlett services in charge of the W. T. Byrum Funeral home.

Edwin Savage was born February 14, 1921, at Frisco, where he spent his entire life. He was converted at the age of nine years and his life bore evidence of real Christian character. He was of a modest, quiet, retiring disposition. For every one he had a smile and a kind word. To his friends, he exhibited those sterling qualities that are the necessary foundation for true friendship. To his parents, he was at all times obedient and affectionate. He was his fathers pal, and his unusual tenderness, thoughtfulness and consideration for his mother have been the subject of much comment. Always he carried an atmosphere of genuine politeness which made his presence a pleasure wherever he went. His heartbroken parents have the deepest sympathy of the entire community through their blinding tears, may they be enabled to look up and with the poet say:

"Put any burden upon me, only sustain me.
Send me anywhere, only go with me.
Select any tie but the one that binds me
To Thy service and to Thy heart.

ELD. R. C. HORN ADDRESSES MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Eld. R. C. Horn, veteran and beloved Christian minister of this city, spoke to the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church here Sunday morning. His talk was a fine lecture on the "Life of Paul."

Sunday was Eld. Horn's seventy-fifth anniversary in Texas. During these years he has become endeared in the hearts of our citizenship. He is a former county school teacher, and also a minister, until a few years when he retired from the active ministry. Although he is one of Collin's oldest residents, he is still quite active and is frequently invited to occupy pulpits or teach Sunday school classes in the city and elsewhere. His lecture Sunday morning was greatly enjoyed by the large class of men present. Prof. W. S. Smith is teacher of this class, which is one of the largest men's Bible classes in the city or county.

URGE TRUSTEES TO APPLY FOR STATE AID

According to County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks and his assistant Malcolm M. Walters, trustees of all Collin county schools expecting to receive state aid this year are urged to come in at once to sign applications. All trustees who have not already done so are urged to come in and petition for aid from the state. More than the usual number of schools are applying this year for state help, possibly more than sixty being expected on the list. Many have already signed up, through their trustees.

The county superintendent explains that since all of these applications must be in Denton not later than October 15, it is highly important that these trustees sign these applications immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Odell, who live on South Tennessee street, are rejoicing over the birth of a little 6½-pound baby daughter on Sunady, October 1. Mr. and Mrs. Odell have another child, Roy Odell Jr., 3½ years old. These editors congratulate the happy young parents and also the doting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Lowery. The young mother was formerly Miss Pauline Lowery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Boyce of Houston are guests for a few days of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Beard, and family. Mrs. Boyce will be remembered as Miss Mollie Beard, of this city, before her marriage.

JOHN H. CULLOM MINGLES WITH COLLIN FRIENDS

John H. Cullom, one of the most widely-known business men of Texas, was chairman of the speakers of the Dallas delegation of nearly 200 that visited our county fair Wednesday afternoon. These editors have been intimately acquainted with Mr. Cullom for thirty years. He was formerly editor and publisher of the Garland News and is a past president of the Texas State Press association. When Chas. A. Culbertson was elected governor he appointed Mr. Cullom as his private secretary. When his period of service ended at the state capital at Austin, he returned to Dallas and has since served several terms in these Dallas county elective offices of district clerk and county tax collector. He was never defeated and has the reputation of being the best vote getter that Dallas county has ever had. There is a reason for this. His rugged integrity of character, his brains, capability for public service and his unfailing cheerfulness and obliging spirit, all combine to popularize him with every class of citizenship. Mr. Cullom's wife and the wife of Dr. G. O. Key of McKinney, a prominent Baptist minister and moderator of the Collin County Baptist association, are sisters. McKinney is always happy to receive a visit from John H. Cullom and his fine family.

Miss Joyce graduated from the Longview High school last year. Mrs. Williams was accompanied to McKinney by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fairest Williams, of Tyler.

W. B. QUISENBURY PRIZES HIGHLY OLD NEWSPAPER

McKINNEY MESSENGER AUG. 19, 1864 CONTAINS FATHER'S DEATH

W. B. (Benge) Quesenbury, business man of this city, is the possessor of a valued family keepsake that he treasures most highly. It is a two-page, four-column issue of the old McKinney Messenger, James W. Thomas, editor and proprietor, dated "McKinney, Texas, Friday, August 19, 1864." It is printed on cheap looking paper that has greatly yellowed with age. Paper during the Civil war was very difficult to obtain by Editor Thomas, who established the Messenger in 1854 at Clarksville, Red River county, but who, in 1850, moved the plant and paper to McKinney, changing its name to the McKinney Messenger and started the publication of Collin county's first newspaper, which he continued to issue until about 1876 when he voluntarily ceased its publication.

The old paper is doubly interesting to its present possessor, Mr. Quesenbury, because of a set of Masonic resolutions printed in it to which are signed the names of J. W. Throckmorton, C. R. Breedlove and Dr. G. A. Foote, as a committee, and also attested to by W. H. Andrews, secretary, who was a district judge here for some years along about that time and a little later. Two years after the publication of these resolutions, J. W. Throckmorton was elected as the eleventh governor of Texas. C. R. Breedlove was later elected as district judge. Dr. G. A. Foote, a charter member of St. John's Lodge No. 51, A. F. & A. M., of this city, became one of the wealthiest citizens of our county and when he died, July 16, 1902, was president of the Collin County National bank. W. B. Benge was a Confederate soldier and one of the county's most influential citizens. He was the father of four daughters—Mrs. Stanley Quesenbury, deceased; Mrs. W. R. Powell, widow of a former Collin county tax collector; Mrs. N. A. Williams and Mrs. W. E. Marshall, all three of the surviving daughters still living in McKinney.

The resolutions are as follows:

Death W. B. Benge.

"Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe, to take from his sphere of usefulness on earth our good, and well-beloved brother, W. B. Benge—and in remembrance of the love and esteem entertained for him by his brethren of St. John's Lodge, No. 51, of which he had long been a bright and shining light. Be it

Resolved, That in the death of Brother W. B. Benge, the Masonic fraternity have lost one of their most worthy and exemplary members—one who was thoroughly imbued with its time-honored and sacred principles, and who, in his intercourse with the brethren and with his fellow-citizens, acted strictly in accordance with its teachings and admonitions.

That in his untimely decease his lodge has lost one of its brightest lights—one of its most precious jewels.

That in his death society has likewise been deprived of a most valued ornament and this community of one of its most esteemed members.

That we tender to his bereaved wife and fatherless little daughters the sympathy of each individual member of this lodge and as Masons shall watch with solicitude their future and with the hearts and hands of brothers supply their wants and relieve their cares.

J. W. THROCKMORTON,
C. R. BREEDLOVE,
G. A. FOOTE,
Committee.

On motion it was:

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of our deceased brother, and that a copy be furnished the Editor of the McKinney Messenger, with the request that they be published.

W. H. ANDREWS,
Secretary."

M. H. S. LIONS PREPARE FOR FARMERSVILLE

With cooler weather upon the city, the McKinney High Lions football squad settled down Monday to a week of intensive workout preparation for their game with the Farmersville High Farmers here next Friday night, October 6. The Lions themselves are disappointed over their showing against the Plano High Wildcats last Friday night. They consider themselves lucky to get a draw with the Wildcats and all indications are that next Friday night will see a "new team" on the spirit and hustle.

Coach Noble J. Atkins was prepared this week to give the Lions some of the hardest workouts of the year, to perfect a much needed offensive punch during the week and to straighten out a rather in and out defense which cropped up in the backfield Friday night. The big Lion forward wall was also due for plenty of workout.

Although the Farmersville High Farmers scrimmaged with the Princeton High, Class C, team Friday afternoon, no estimate of their strength has yet reached McKinney. The Farmer squad watched the Lion-Wildcat fray here Friday night and it is a cinch they will offer plenty of resistance to the Lion charges. They defeated the locals last year, 7-6.

$437,588.20 IS RECEIVED BY COTTON FARMERS

A total of $437,588.20 in cotton plow-up checks is already in the hands of farmers of this county, according to County Farm Agent Jack McCullough who receives the checks as they come in from Washington at his office here and issues them to Collin farmers as they are notified and come in for them.

A total of 2,821 Collin farmers have received these checks. There is approximately $200,000 in these direct plow-up checks still to come to Collin. The government is sending these checks out at a rapid rate now and the county agent is urging Collin farmers to come in and get theirs as soon as they are notified, greatly relieving the work on the county committee and himself and putting the money in circulation as quickly as possible.

SNODGRASS OLD NORTHWEST COLLIN FAMILY

Joseph D. Snodgrass, who lives three miles southwest of Celina, just across the road from where he was born on April 8, 1866, was in McKinney Saturday and took occasion to renew his subscription to the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for another year. He states that he is about finished picking cotton which is a fairly good crop. He plowed up about one-fourth of his crop in co-operation with the government plan. His wheat, oats and corn crops were all sorry this year. Cotton is the only thing that made a decent yield. Last year he said he made the best all-round crop that he ever made and got less for it. Mr. Snodgrass married Dora Belle Buchanan, daughter of the late Esp. J. T. Buchanan, an honored old citizen of Celina. They are the parents of five children—four sons and one daughter. Three of their children are married. The parents of Mr. Snodgrass were Joseph and Elizabeth (Keister) Snodgrass. They came from the state of Iowa to Texas several years prior to the Civil war. They came by water to Jefferson, where they bought an ox team and traveled that way from Jefferson to McKinney. They spent the first three or four years in Collin county on the farms of the late Doc Franklin in the Franklin community and the late Parson John Noble in the Cottage Hill community and then bought land three miles southwest of where Celina now stands. Two of their sons, Joseph D. Snodgrass and Ernest Snodgrass still own and live on the land of their parents. This is one of the oldest and most estimable of our Northwest Collin families.

Mrs. Rosa Nenney and daughter, Miss Frances, returned Sunday from Chicago, where they spent the past ten days attending the World's fair. Miss Frances Nenney stopped in Dallas to resume a position she holds there.

Everett Oliver, a young farmer living east of McKinney, and Miss Lora Mae Ford, daughter of Levi Ford of Sherman, were united in marriage at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 24, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Ford, 1006 Hamilton street. The bride's grandfather officiated. The bride's sister, Mrs. Nance and husband, of this city, and her parents of Sherman and several other near relatives witnessed the ceremony. The young couple have gone to housekeeping on a farm three or four miles east of McKinney.

W. H. Airhart, who gets his mail on a Blue Ridge route, pays for the Daily Courier-Gazette to be sent to his son, Wallis H. Airhart Jr., Box 1598, College Station, where the young man is attending A. & M. college. We thank Mr. Airhart for his subscription and trust that his ambitious young boy will make a splendid record in college, and we feel sure that he will make a citizen who will be an honor to his family name.

GOING TO THE FAIR

Many McKinney folks, having caught the 'fair spirit' at our recent free county fair and horse show, are already making their plans to visit in Dallas, Oct. 7-22. Members of "the Fourth Estate" from this city and county will likewise head toward Dallas early Saturday, opening day of the fair, which is 'press day' at that 47th annual state-wide exposition. Indications point to one of the best state fairs in history this year in Dallas, with hundreds of thousands of Texans flocking to that institution.

NEW LICENSE PLATES

Several inquiries have already been made at Tax Collector N. D. Ready's office by car owners, wanting to know when they may obtain new 1934 car license numbers. "Your Home Town," on a visit to that office one day this week, had the opportunity of seeing the new numbers for both passenger cars and commercial vehicles. They are beauties and no doubt motorists will take a pride, after Dec. 1, in removing the old numbers and placing on the brand new shiny plates. Passenger car plates have an orange background and black numbers, running from 176,000 to 183,850. Commercial plates have a black background and orange numbers, which run from 38,401 to 39,700.

COMMENDS A. H. EUBANKS

While in McKinney one day recently, former County Commissioner J. L. Gibson commended civic-minded McKinneyites in making the recent series of fair booster trips. He also spoke highly complimentary of our fair president, A. H. Eubanks, who was the speaker on the recent Melissa visit. In line with this thought, he took the time to write a few paragraphs on the series of fair visits, in which he characterizes Mr. Eubanks as the first man to put over the NRA project idea in the county—long before the plan was officially announced by the Federal government. Says Mr. Gibson:

"We wish to commend the live-wire bunch of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other McKinney citizens, who paid Melissa an appreciated visit, advertising the thirteenth annual Collin County Free Fair. Their visit was much appreciated by a good-sized, enthusiastic crowd. We certainly enjoyed the good music the band furnished, led by Prof. Ralph E. Frazier, especially since we claim this place as the former home of this good family.

"The speaker of the evening was introduced by our loyal citizen Manny Wysong. Mr. Eubanks made a splendid talk boosting the fair. As we remember a few years ago, Mr. Eubanks was the first man to put over the present NRA project idea in Collin county. When we had a famine in hogs, Mr. Eubanks stepped in to the breach, sent north where hogs were plentiful and prolific and shipped in a car or two of swine to Collin county and let the farmers have them at cost. He also let them have the hogs if they didn't have the cost."

Mr. Gibson invited the fair boosters to again visit Melissa at any time in the future assuring them that the latchstring always hangs on the outside at that progressive North Collin town.

Textile Dept. Was Interesting Fair Exhibit

The textile department of the Collin County fair this week received many admiring spectators. All forms of needlecraft were displayed. Mrs. Henry E. Morgan, superintendent for the past six years, is an untiring worker for the Collin County Free fair and she has been working in the textile department for sixteen years, the duration of the fair. This year she was assisted by Mrs. Lula Robinson and Mrs. J. O. Belden, who have also given untiring support to make the textile department a success.

Among the exhibits was a quilt called the "Lone Star," pieced and quilted by Mrs. Kate Malone, 82 years old, who is living at the county farm. Mrs. James T. Clark, 73 years old, also had a beautiful quilt displayed which she pieced and quilted. Mrs. W. W. Eubanks, 64, of Westminster, had a lovely quilt, which she pieced and quilted. DENISON DAM FLOOD CONTROL PROJECT TO FORE

Congressman Sam Rayburn of this district is on the job at Washington D. C. for the good of his constituents and the whole Red River valley and lower Mississippi delta region.

Largely by his influence the first project to be heard and considered by the recently appointed Mississippi drainage board, will be the Red River project for impounding lake and retention dam north of Denison, which will go before the board Wednesday afternoon. It is a part of the national program to solve the flood problem of the Lower Mississippi Valley, and would be financed by the public works administration to the amount of $36,000,000 if the proponents' plans are accepted. The Red River committee of which O. N. Floyd, engineer of Dallas, is chairman, met here Monday at the request of Representative Sam Rayburn of the Bonham district, and obtained the engagement for the hearing.

Red River has been surveyed by the army engineers from the standpoint of navigation and adversely reported; however, it was held that the Denison project would be helpful in the flood work. At the same time the army engineers did not regard it of material value compared with the cost which they fixed at $54,000,000.

The largest potential value aside from flood aid, in the project, is said to be in the power-producing possibilities, and prospective contracts are available that would permit amortization of the cost in sixty years. If the Government should make a donation of 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials as the act provides, amortization would cover a much shorter period. The project would store 9,000,000-acre feet of water.

TEXAS MASONIC GRAND MASTER CLOSING YEAR

Judge Wallace Hughston, Grand Master of the Texas Grand lodge, is shaping the affairs of his administration and getting them in readiness for the Ninety-Eighth Annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Texas, when it convenes at Waco Wednesday, December 6. In the current issue of the Masonic Educational Bulletin, published at Dallas by the grand lodge committee on education and service and edited by Wilbur Keith, the following official message from the Grand Master appeared in the September issue.

Grand Master's Official Message.

My Dear Brethren:

We are entering upon the last three months of the present grand lodge year, and one of the greatest desires in my heart is to see a large representation of the Masons of Texas present at the 98th annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Texas at Waco when that body convenes on the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 6.

This year has, indeed, been a trying one. It has wrecked the minds and thoughts of many men and many institutions, but Masonry still stands firm under all these heart-rending conditions. As an appreciation of the soundness of our institution and the love we have for the brotherhood, we should assemble in annual communication at Waco next December and give thanks to Him on High for the good things in life. Some may be of the opinion that the good things are gone, but they are not; the Supreme Grand Master still lives and presides over the destinies of all mankind, and He has given to us many things for which to be thankful.

Therefore, let me appeal to every lodge in the great jurisdiction of Texas to strive to have representation in the Grand Lodge at its 98th annual communication.

Fraternally,
WALLACE HUGHSTON,
Grand Master.

Delinquent Taxes Are Paid To Tax Collector Ready

County Tax Collector N. D. Ready reports an unusually good collection of delinquent taxes during the month of September. He states that his monthly report will be out within the next few days, showing a considerable amount of delinquent taxes paid up. Paying of these back taxes will help schools, county road funds and other conditions all over the county, which have been running behind. Of course, the county tax collector is hopeful that conditions will continue to get better and that the payment of these delinquent taxes will keep up as it has in the past month or two. He and his office force hope to cut down this delinquent tax list this fall.

Under the special act of the legislature people who owed back taxes could pay them up until September 30 with only one per cent additional penalty. Beginning the first of this month there is an extra one per cent added, making a two per cent penalty which will be in force until December 31. Beginning January 1 there will be a much heavier penalty and because of this fact, he and his office are expecting a large number of people to pay up taxes long due in order to escape the added penalty. Of course, he and his office force appreciate the cooperation of property owners who have been very liberal in this matter and they feel confident that quite a large number will continue to come in the remainder of this year and continue to pay up old taxes in order to escape the heavy penalty.

Roof Leaking?

Fall and winter rains are very hard on old leaky roofs. Depreciation and damage to other parts of the building is very annoying. Re-roof now and be prepared for the rainy season. A good roof is a paying investment.

COZY DAYS AHEAD

for HOMES HEATED WITH IMPROVED GAS APPLIANCES

It's time to think of comfort, to plan so that when winter winds begin to blow, your home will be a haven of warmth—a cheerful, cozy place where raw chill is barred from every room—a place where the whole family can enjoy life comfortably, luxuriously.

You can modernize your home heating most easily these days, with so many improved types of gas heating appliances at your command.

There are floor furnaces that require only a small space beneath the floor, yet heat large areas efficiently. There are circulators that provide healthful, circulating warm air for rooms that are hard to heat. There are individual gas steam radiators, manufacturing steam heat on the spot. For the larger home, there are gas-fired central heating plants that circulate warmth all over the house, and gas conversion burners to modernize old heating systems. And there are many styles of improved space heaters ranging from the simplest models to reproductions of old-world designs.

Some one of these improved types of modern gas equipment—maybe a combination of types—will bring summer time to your home this winter. With your home so equipped we are safe in predicting "Cozy Days Ahead," regardless of the winter.

You'll find a wide variety of modern gas heating appliances at your gas appliance dealer or your gas company. Either will be glad to give you dependable advice on any home heating problem.

A McKinney friend has received a letter from Dunn Durrett, dated at Brawley, California, September 18. Brawley is in the Imperial Valley, which is 2,000 feet below the sea level. He says it is too hot there for him. The thermometer in September ranged above the 100 mark in the shade. However, he says, from midnight until sunup in the morning it is very cool and pleasant. He says everything that is grown around Brawley is irrigated. Dunn's old home is here at McKinney, where he has relatives and numerous friends living.

In the big Dallas delegation of nearly 200 Dallas business men visiting our county fair and horse show Wednesday afternoon was Beeman Fisher, who holds a responsible position with the Texas Power and Light company in its publicity and public relations departments. Beeman is an apostle of unfailing good cheer among every class of citizenship. He is especially widely known and popular among the newspaper men of the state. He was busy during the time that the Dallas delegation spent at our fair, mingling with the many visitors and getting acquainted with them as fast as he met up with them, little, big, old and young. MISS NORINE MOSES BRIDE OF GENTRY STEWART

Before the immediate families and a few intimate friends, Miss Norine Moses, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Moses, became the bride of Gentry Stuart of East Orange, N. J., Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the home of her parents. The ceremony was beautiful in its simplicity. Dr. J. H. Gozad, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating, using the impressive ring ceremony. The pre-nuptial music was given by Marion Sansom III of Fort Worth, who sang, "O Perfect Love," being accompanied at the piano by George Beavers of Fort Worth. Mr. Beavers also played the wedding march.

Miss Moses entered on the arm of her father, while Miss Jennie Lou Sportsman was bride's maid. The groom was attended by Joseph Vancil of Fort Worth.

The bride was beautifully attired in a fall suit of Falcon Wing grey, with grey squirrel trimming. Her accessories were black "antelope." She wore a shoulder corsqage of orchids. Miss Sportsman's suit was of brown, with blue fox fur trimmings. Her accessories were in eel grey and she wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

The sacred vows were taken before an improvised altar of white lilies and tube roses, arranged in two large baskets, with a background of ferns and vines. Tall white tapers burned during the ceremony, casting a soft glow over the impressive scene. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at 5:30 until 6:30, at which about seventy-five friends called. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Moses, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stuart, parents of the groom, Mrs. J. R. Gateley; Mrs. Jack E. Leonard and Miss Christine Moses, sisters of the bride.

Punch and cake were served in the dining room by Misses Frances and Kathryn Foster. The dining table was attractively arranged in a white color motif, a large bowl of white flowers centering the table, with white tapers burning on either side. A Normandy cloth was used. On the buffet was the three-tiered wedding cake, artistically embossed in white, and centered with a miniature bride and groom. A miniature bridal party was also arranged here.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stuart of St. Louis, Buck Sansom, Marion Sansom III, Joseph Vancil, Dr. R. S. Mallard, Clarence Johnson, George Beavers, Misses Sadie Marshall and Viola Schrier, all of Fort Worth, Misses Jennie Lou Sportsman, Rosalie Herren, Kathryn Shugart and Dr. J. L. The bride is one of the city's most attractive and popular young women. She graduated from Boyd High school, later finishing at Baylor university in Dallas. She has resided in Fort Worth the past three years.

The groom is an ambitious and highly esteemed young man, being a graduate of Amherst college. The couple have the best wishes of a multitude of friends here and elsewhere, upon their marriage.

IDENTIFIES PICTURE OF CLYDE BARROW AS HIJACKER

J. J. Thompson, one of the proprietors of the C. & T. Grocery, who was held up and robbed of $37.20 last Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock by a hijacker, has identified a picture of Clyde Barrow, notorious gangster and outlaw, who is wanted in several states on a variety of charges, as the man who robbed him at his place of business on Church street. City and county officials showed Mr. Thompson Barron's picture and the McKinney groceryman positively identified the picture as the man who staged the robbery.

As reported in the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, a man, appearing to be about 25 years of age, walked in his store, called for a package of cigarettes and then commanded Mr. Thompson to put his hands high in the air, at the point of a pistol, also commanding the proprietor to open the cash drawer and the safe.

According to reports to local officials, a man, answering Barrow's description, accompanied by two women, one a brunette and the other a titian-haired girl were helped out of a ditch a few miles west of town, paying their helper $5.00 for the service. They are reported to have gone on west to Rock Hill, thence north to a point between Prosper and Celina, back to Rhea Mills and the twin bridges and on north to Weston. At the latter North Collin town, they inquired about the old K. T. trail, declaring one of the girls lived on that highway.

Local officers also report that a man answering Barrow's description and accompanied by two women, one a brunette and the other a titian-haired girl were helped out of a ditch a few miles west of town, paying their helper $5.00 for the service. They are reported to have gone on west to Rock Hill, thence north to a point between Prosper and Celina, back to Rhea Mills and the twin bridges and on north to Weston. A recent box supper by members of the Methodist church at White's Grove, four miles southwest of McKinney, brought in nearly $100 cash. Col. George Apple of McKinney was auctioneer. A bar of soap put up as a prize to the ugliest man present brought $22.64. Pretty good price for a single bar of soap. When the votes were counted Dink Herndon was winner of the doubtful honor. However, Dink was highly pleased at beating four or five other friends, including Grady Melton, his runner-up. Dink says that he honestly believes the right man was chosen for this honor. Anna Boasts Active Home Dem. Club

One of the most active home demonstration clubs in the county, is the Anna club, which was organized in 1921 by Mrs. J. Ed McGee, former county home demonstration club agent. This is one of the fifteen or sixteen charter clubs of the county. At the time of the organization, Mrs. W. H. Wright was president with Miss Gertrude Arnold was secretary. Miss Arnold is the present secretary, while Miss Decer Powell is now president.

This club won first place in the county club exhibit at the Collin County Free Fair here last week, having also won the same distinction last year. Several years ago Anna won first place at the fair, three times in succession, thus receiving the J. P. Dowell trophy, for this honor. However, the members of the club retired from making exhibits in the fair for three years, during which time Westminster won the cup. Anna, however, on coming back, about four years ago, again won first place. The following year Luuas, took possession of first honors and for the last two years, as mentioned before, Anna came out at the top again. Should Anna win again next year the loving cup will again be theirs. They boast a group of active members, who are deeply interested in their work, and are heartily co-operating with Miss Helen Dunlap, the present county home demonstration agent.

HARRIS FUNERALS IN EVERY NEIGHBORHOOD

A large number of families in McKinney and surrounding territory would never think of calling any one else, but Harris for funerals.

These families are located far and near but Harris' service does away with the question of distance because they have the equipment and "KNOW HOW."

These families know that a "funeral by Harris" is the deepest proof of their final devotion. It is this large number of families that has made Harris' service so thoroughly established.

Harris' funerals are famous for their unusual arrangement and direction and are unsurpassed in service and equipment. They are evidently different and satisfying.

So no matter where you live or your distance away, call Harris, of-course!

There will be a regrets.
